

Schools Programme Launch Invitation

The Holocaust Exhibition and Learning Centre is a new exhibition and teaching resource at Huddersfield University that opened to the public on 17 September. We are delighted to invite you to the launch of our new on-site learning programme for primary and secondary schools on Tuesday 23 October 2018.

Afternoon workshop 1.30 – 3.15pm

FREE - Prior booking essential

An introduction to the 'Through Our Eyes' Exhibition and the range of workshops that we can offer here at the Centre, with a preview of some of the activities students will be involved in as part of a visit.

- 1.15 Registration and refreshments
- 1.30 An introduction to the purpose and history of the exhibition; workshops and learning offer; diversity bingo with a twist.
- 2.10 Time to view the exhibition, 'Through Our Eyes', which tells the story of the Holocaust through the experiences of refugees and survivors now living in Yorkshire.
- 2.30 Special Things – learning through objects.
What makes something special? 'Through Our Eyes' contains objects that might not look special at first sight but have meaningful stories. Find out about one way of engaging young people with Holocaust histories through objects and the people who owned or used them.
- 3.00 Questions and feedback

Places for this workshop are limited. Please email helc@hud.ac.uk by Thursday 18th October to book your place.

Twilight open evening, 3.45 – 6.30pm

FREE - Drop in, no booking necessary

An informal opportunity to look round the 'Through Our Eyes' exhibition, see the learning and conferencing spaces, and talk to staff about our new range of workshops and how they can help you and your students. Find out about our forthcoming new website and online resources, and talk to us about how you'd like to see our learning programme develop in future.

Refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

The Holocaust Exhibition & Learning centre is located in the Schwann Building at the University of Huddersfield.
